FROM THE DESK OF KITTY PIERCY:

There is a survey out in the field right now to try to figure out whether a write-in campaign to defeat me in November is viable. The scuttlebutt is that some are trying to entice Jim Torrey into being that candidate. He is willing to consider this if polling indicates its a go. Thus the polling is happening.

I take the point of view that we ran the election, won fairly and now I am reaching out to bring us together to move forward. I have met with city councilors, am meeting with the Chamber of Commerce and the Mayor. I have met with the U of O, the downtown folks, LTD, school districts and many others. I am convening some economic discussions and will continue to work on my 6 Point Economic Plan. I am attending council meetings and other committees and just doing my utmost to listen and prepare for the Mayoral role for all Eugene. I have my eye on the future while some want to foment rancor and keep on building divisions in our community. That's not good for business nor for the wellbeing of the community.

This write-in attempt detracts from what we need to be doing.

I am telling you this to give you heads up and for you to pass this along. We may have more work to do. We need to take this seriously, be on target and keep moving ahead. Our win is hopeful for Eugene and we need to stay focused and be ready to push back if it is called for. I hoped that no more money would have to be spent but we may not be so fortunate. There are some deep pockets out there who do not want to let go of control of our community government.

Please talk to your friends, alert everyone, be prepared.

My best to you all. Kitty
