Growers Board: August 31st, at 6 pm

Coordinators: TBA

(usually at the round table upstairs, otherwise downstairs)

GROWERS NEEDS YOUR HELP

you know growers is an all volunteer cooperative buying club. the volunteer part is very important. at the coordinators meeting monday we talked about the need for a few more volunteers, here are the positions that need filled: thursday evening closer, you would help the coordinator put growers to bed for the night, put produce in walk-in, close up buckets, a little cleaning..., starts about 7:30; friday--cashiers in the early afternoon and into early evening; also on friday general help from 11--3:00. there is cashier training, application to fill out, further information.....talk with the coordinator on duty during the time you would like to volunteer. the suggestion box is now the "contact the coordinators" box. most of the suggestions were for coordinators anyway. thank you for being growers and thanks for volunteering. growers is a great team to work with!!!! Sue

DRY GOODS NOTES

og macadamia nuts and goji berries are out of stock and may not be back for a month or two. mango fillets are back and a few weeks early at that. we have holy kakow og cocoa powder, a new cocoa, not dutch processed and is fair trade. give it a try. as far as special orders go, we expanded the area for the s. o. tags and people aren't paying attention as to where the tags should go, i try to catch the mistakes but it would be easier if tags were put in the right place.. the same goes for product code. thanks. hope your gardens are growing well. (my housemate, jen-lin, has been creating new garden beds and growing lots of wonderful things.) take care, sue.

NATURAL BUILDING WORKSHOP

Natural Building Weekend Workshops in Crow, OR (18 min from Eugene): Aug. 14 & 15, 2010: The first weekend includes 2 full days of learning and developing Natural Building skills in a hands-on setting, working on a real building! We will cover: Structural cob and cob infill techniques, Straw-flake infill for insulation, Earthen architecture forms and details
