DRY GOODS NOTES

a huge thanks to phil for coming in yesterday to deal with the unfi order. there was a bomb threat at the post office tuesday so the truck could not get to us.

we will get deliveries next tuesday as usual, yes while we are open.

we are getting oregon grown black beans for awhile, the noti beans should be ready in early december.

thanks to everyone working on the floor project.

i feel the need to remind everyone we are an ALL VOLUNTEER food buying club. all the volunteers work hard. that said the coordinators work the hardest, often doing two jobs. it can get very stressful when a delivery is off schedule, a volunteer calls in sick or otherwise unavailable, etc. remember we are working for all of you and doing the best we can. please remember this. there is often more going on than you may realize so please do not get angry or abusive if your situation/question cannot be dealt with immediately. we really are trying to do our best. i often get thanks, which i appreciate, and i want to make sure people know there is a whole team working together to keep growers humming. thank them often.

tired of standing in line? growers is a bit quieter around 5:00 thursdays. place a pre order and your food will be here. or take the plunge and train for a cashier job. speaking of jobs we currently need cashiers and we need a thursday closer. if you are interested in helping to put growers to bed thurseves give nathan a call---541-852-0627 thanks ed. that's all.
