NEW STRAWBOSS POSITION

a new strawboss position we need a dedicated person to put on price stickers and stock the 'candy' and 'snack' sections of the dry goods shelves. the job will usually take between one and two hours a week, requires accurate placement of items and stock rotation. phil or i will train you for the job, it is somewhat detail oriented. the job can be done when the orders arrive, alternate tuesday and wednesday depending upon the united or azure delivery schedule, it can also be done thursday prior to 2:30 when growers opens. if you are interested in this position (it would help if you could plan on doing the job for a year or longer), please ask the coordinator for an application. if you need more information feel free to give me a call. thanks so much for your interest sue 541-688-6679.

DRY GOODS NOTES

dry goods notes for late october there have been a few buying pattern changes over the last few months so a few items are being discontinued: crofters fruit conserves, nature's path o's and possibly mesa sun, merry hempsters lip balms, a few chips..mostly those that are not gmo free. annie's has been sold to general mills so i'm wondering if you want another brand of mac and cheese? misos should all be back in stock this week, united is having problems with their supply of organic valley 1/2 and 1/2 although azure is not, azure's is a bit more expensive. og garbanzo (chickpea) flour is back in stock. have a good week and thanks for being growers!!!! sue

GROUP WORKS WORKSHOP

The Group Pattern Language Project is offering a workshop on the Group Works deck, Sat. Nov. 15, 10am-5pm at Stellaria (Hummingbird's building across the tracks from Growers). Group Works is a way of thinking about great group process in the form of best patterns. The deck can be used in a myriad of ways to improve group dynamics: for planning events, running sessions, reflecting afterward, studying facilitation by yourself or as part of a group, assessing organizational functionality, quick guidance in a tight spot, and lots more. The 100-card deck is available for free download from www.groupworksdeck.org. The workshop will be fun and highly interactive, with many opportunities to explore applying these patterns to your own groups. Go to <http://groupworksdeck.org/news/eugene-workshop-invitation> to find out more. Offered by longtime Growers member Tree Bressen and her nonprofit team.
