NEW STRAWBOSS POSITION

a new strawboss position we need a dedicated person to put on price stickers and stock the 'candy' and 'snack' sections of the dry goods shelves. the job will usually take between one and two hours a week, requires accurate placement of items and stock rotation. phil or i will train you for the job, it is somewhat detail oriented. the job can be done when the orders arrive, alternate tuesday and wednesday depending upon the united or azure delivery schedule, it can also be done thursday prior to 2:30 when growers opens. if you are interested in this position (it would help if you could plan on doing the job for a year or longer), please ask the coordinator for an application. if you need more information feel free to give me a call. thanks so much for your interest sue 541-688-6679.

PRODUCE SORTER

Growers is looking for someone to pull the pre-order produce every Thursday. The job takes between 1-1.5 hours each week and needs to be done by 2:30. The job includes pulling the pre-orders from an excel tally sheet and organizing the produce between Thursday orders and Friday orders. It takes attention to detail and gentle handling and organization of the produce. If interested, please stop by Thursday morning or afternoon and speak with a coordinator on duty.

HELP WITH GROWERS INVENTORY

Growers Market needs lots of volunteers to help with our year-end inventory. No experience is necessary. The counting and weighing will start at 7 pm on Tuesday, December 30th. We will finish up on Wednesday, December 31st, starting at noon. People can arrive an hour late if they want. They can just work for an hour, or you can work longer. Since so many people are out of town at the end of the year, we offer double pumpkins. Helping with inventory is a good way for busy people to stockpile work credit if they have a little spare time on December 30th or 31st. Growers board member Doug Quirke volunteered on the inventory crew while he was in law school. Growers will be open for shopping from 2:30 pm to 7:30 pm on Tuesday, December 30th, so people can buy groceries on the same day that they help with inventory. --Milton
