TELLING PEOPLE ABOUT GROWERS

Growers Market needs new shoppers! Please tell people about our buying club. They say that word of mouth is the best advertising, eh? I suggest to people that they can see what Growers looks like from 10 am to 7 pm on a Friday (but not the Friday of Country Fair week, July 7th, 2017). You can even give someone a tour of Growers yourself.

DRY GOODS NOTES

we are experiencing a number of out of stocks from azure standard. fifty percent of the last order i placed was out of stock, this week's order is even worse, i really don't know what is going on with azure right now. expect out of stocks in quinoa pasta, brown rice pasta, both organic and mother's butters, julie's ice cream line, ramen and peanut butter. i'm looking for other sources and they are likely to be more expensive than what we can usually get from azure. the rice dream pies are being discontinued by imagine, we have some options for small frozen goodies so if you have a favorite let me know.

there will be no azure or hummingbird delivery the week of country fair.

thanks for being growers,

sue
